Important!

The product serial number must be used to register the product in connection with warranty coverage.

When registering, enter the serial number without hyphens.

Example of data plate

The data plate may have a different appearance depending on the productand placement.
Below you can see two different types of data plates.

Example of a product serial number: 7312-2147-0568.
The first four digits indicate the type of product, the second four indicate the manufacture year and week. In this example: CTC EcoAir 610M, 2021 week 47. The last four digits indicate the sequential number. (In cases where the serial number is 12 digits long and begins with 7000)
